

THE FOUNDATIONAL FISH

River Herring and Human Communities in Coastal Southern New England

With Matthew McKenzie
Professor of History and Maritime Studies at the University of Connecticut

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 13 2024

6:30 PM

This talk will present a historical overview of how important river herring have always been to people living in this area, where stocks are headed, and what we can do to help rebuild them.

Presented in collaboration with the Old Lyme
Conservation Commission

Register here:

